

DON'T MIND THE RAIN

Ned Miller, Chester Cohn – 1924

Verse 1

Eb                                 C7                                 F7
Sorrrows were never meant to be,
Bb7                                 Eb
And still they come to you and me,
C7                                 Fm
But like the skies of grey
F7                                 Bb7   F#aug
They come and go away. So

Chorus

Eb   Bb7                 Eb
Don't mind the rain,
                                  Bb7   Eb
It's bound to clear up a - gain,
                               Eb7 Ab                                 Eb
For when the clouds go rolling by,
                               F7
A rainbow lights the sky,
                               Bb7
And all at one time there is sunshine,

Eb   Bb7                 Eb
So, don't complain,
                                  Eb7                                 Ab   C7
But always smile when it's rain - ing,
Fm                                 Abm
For life to have happy hours,
Eb                                 C7
Needs showers, just like the flowers,
Bb7                                 Eb
Don't mind the rain.

Verse 2

Eb                                 C7                                 F7
For ev'ryone there's joy and bliss,
Bb7                                 Eb
But then you must remember this,
C7                                 Fm
We get an equal share
F7                                 Bb7   F#aug
Of sadness and of care. So
