BELOVED

Gus Kahn, Joe Sanders - 1928

```
G Em
                          A7
    Em
                                 D7
The breeze brought a story of love to a rose verse 1
            Em
         G
                 G A7
           low at the summer day's close Whispered it
           Dm
                E7
                       A9
                            Ab9 G9
Youth brought the rose to a beau - ti - ful
                                     miss Eb9
She heard the dear little rose whisper this
______
                           D+ G D7
                                   Dhav G
Because of you the skies are blue, beloved, be - loved
                               D+ G
                                       Dhav G7
Because you smile, it's all worthwhile, beloved,
                                       be - loved
              C<sub>m</sub>6
                              D7
                         G Dm
Because we care, this goodbye could not mean
A9 a A7topG
                       D7
Love will die,
                 Where e'er I go,
             D+ G Am7b5 A7
                              D7 G
I'll dream of my beloved, Beloved
                                               end Cm6 G
               G Em A7
                                  D7
I'm sending these roses and hoping they'll say verse 2
        Em
               G A7
All that is deep in my heart, dear, today
       Dm E7
                        A9 Ab9
                                      F#9
All that I've known since the mo - ment we met F9
          E9
                     Eb9
All that I am hoping you'll never forget
______
```